2009 - 2010

Letter from the Editors

Stephanie-Marie lacuessa & Elizabeth Pelletier-Goulet

When people found out that we took on the responsibility of the yearbook, their first reaction was always "but . . . why?", and truthfully, when in the midst of those 4am mornings and the insane rush to meet deadlines, we started wondering the same thing. However, we can honestly say that once the frantic search for blurbs and pictures was over, and we had the whole book put together, it was all worth it.

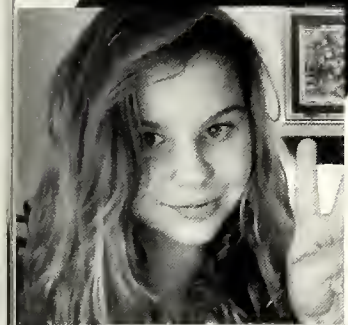

Being the editors of the 2009-2010 yearbook was a privilege and we thank all of those who helped us complete our masterpiece. First of all, we would like to thank Ms. Papini for the immense support and patience she gave us. This yearbook would have never have been finished without you. We would also like to thank Joanna Schacter for all of the marvelous artwork throughout the yearbook. You spent many hours to perfect and polish your work to make the yearbook as beautiful as possible and we are forever grateful. Finally, we would like to thank the rest of the yearbook team: Stephanie, Jordana, Julia, Claire, Francesca, Audrey, Michelle, Mishi, Sabina, Chloe and Anna. Yes, yearbook was a lot of work, but we hope that you all realize what a great accomplishment it really is!

To the class of 2010, you're an amazing group of girls. We have not only left our mark on this school but on each and every person who has had the opportunity to get to know us. It's been said before and we'll say it again, we are a truly unique and amazing family.

A Message from Ms. Falco

The Study Yearbook provides a wonderful venue for reflection and celebration. This treasure book of photos and stories covers many of the highlights of the learning activities, special events, and remarkable accomplishments that have taken place over the school year. Our Study girls constantly amaze me and it is truly a privilege to watch them in action as they develop their special talents, earn accolades in a multitude of areas and regularly take action to make a difference for others. It is truly an honor to know each of our students and to work with them along with our dedicated faculty and staff, to build a dynamic and compassionate school culture.

L'année scolaire 2009-2010 a certainement été enrichissante pour nos élèves. Les expériences éducatives quotidiennes ainsi que les contacts avec leurs camarades de classe ou le personnel de l'école continuent à les former pour le future. C'est avec grand plaisir que j'observe nos élèves et nos enseignants dynamiques et pleins de talent collaborant ensemble pour contester, explorer, travailler ou tout simplement s'amuser.

I thank the graduating class of 2010 for their leadership and their creativity and for being wonderful role models for us all. They have had a palpable impact on the culture of the school and their influence will be long lasting. I wish them all the best as they move on to new adventures and I remind them that once a Study girl always a Study girl; they are always welcome to return for a visit and to seek our advice and support. Indeed, we expect and look forward to it!

Cet annuaire regroupe une merveilleuse collection de photos et de souvenirs, que nous garderons à jamais dans nos archives, Je tiens à en remercier les éditrices Stephanie-Marie Iacuesssa et Elizabeth Pelletier-Goulet de même que leur comité, composé de Anna Dai, Joanna Rose Schacter, Julia Facchino, Stephanie Pelletier-Goulet, Jordana Serero, Francesca Masella, Audrey Kano, Claire Hadaya, Amanda Kost, Mickaela Papich, Sabina Alka, Chloé Espiard et Michelle Marin pour tout le temps, le dévouement, la créativité et la réflexion qu'elles ont consacrés pour créer ce souvenir bien spécial. Un grand merci aussi à Mme. Papini pour ses conseils de même que pour le temps et le dévouement qu'elle a apportés à cet important projet.

All my best wishes to The Class of 2010

A Message from Ms. Zannis

Dear Students,

The 2009 2010 school year was one that saw you all achieve great things in academics, in athletics and in the many co-curricular activities in which you all participate. We saw passion and spirit on a daily basis whether it was through the phenomenal surprise dance you prepared for the faculty, "I gotta feeling", or how well you rallied to raise funds for earthquake victims in Haiti. You completed all initiatives with heart and soul! Another new initiative this year was the Free the Children Scholarship programme for students in Nicaragua and the community service trip to Nicaragua. Bravo to everyone, as you all helped to make this idea become reality.

A special mention must be made of our graduating class of 2010 who were wonderful role models for all students from the first day of school when we set off on our retreat, right until the very last day. You are wonderful young women who will go far and we look forward to hearing of your accomplishments in years to come.

To all students, don't forget:

If you can't be a highway then just be a trail, If you can't be the sun be a star; It isn't by size that you win or you fail - Be the best of whatever you are! (D. Malloch)

A Message from Mme. Lafleur

Chères élèves du primaire,

Une autre belle année scolaire se termine. Je ne vous connais pas depuis longtemps mais je peux vous assurer que vous m'avez impressionnée par tout ce que vous avez accompli. You have all been involved in a variety of projects which have allowed you to learn so many new things.

La participation des élèves à divers projets a démontré leur soif d'apprendre et leur fierté de partager leurs connaissances. Certaines occasions me reviennent en tête: je pense au projet médical en lien avec l'Hôpital Général de Montréal, à celui du parlement écolier, à la semaine de la lecture. Je pense aussi à la grande capacité d'organisation dont ont fait preuve les élèves de sixième année lors de la soirée de levée de fonds pour l'organisme: Free the Children.

Mais encore plus que les projets, vous vous souviendrez des amies et des enseignants. They will be in your hearts for many years as you will be in mine.

Teachers
Paint their minds
and guide their thoughts
Share their achievements and advise their faults

Inspire a Love
of knowledge and truth
As you light the path
Which leads our youth

For our future brightens with each lesson you teach
Each smile you lengthen
Each goal you help reach

For the dawn of each poet

Elementary School Prefect

Time sure does fly when you've been given a position on Student Council. Just as I thought I got used to being a part of Student Council, I'm already replaced. It seems as though it were yesterday when we had our first student council meeting out in the school playground, and it seems as though the rest of the year went by in a blink. Originally, I thought we'd all be working separately on our positions. As it turned out, we're all in this together! Most importantly, I think it's safe to say that I've been able to master they ways of ticket-cutting-card making-poster-painting (the NYC cab was a success) I have loved every moment working with you girls (definitely an experience in and of itself) and I'll miss you lots. Thank you so much Ms. Zannis, for all your help, support and guiding us through the 2009-2010 academic year. It's obvious that we couldn't have done it without you! Good luck Chloe, and to the Student Council of '11, I wish you all the best. Have fun trying to beat our records :)

Tatiana

Sports Captain

As sports captain of the school, you gotta be on track. You gotta be spirited, you gotta be organized, on the ball, attentive, structured.. you basically gotta be awesome. And Patty Johnson, you are awesome, so you're going to have the time of your life being sports captain. Sure it's busy sometimes, but it's all worth it in the end to see everyone smile at the amazing job you've done. Ms. Zannis and the rest of student council will always be there to support you. It's also so bomb digz because sometimes there are extra lollipops from previous events so you can just snack on those every once in a while. Also, don't forget to get to Ms. Zannis' office before everyone else because then you can get the comfy chairs! So anyway, Patty, I pass the torch on to you for next year.

Hope it's a great one
Jessica M.

Secretary

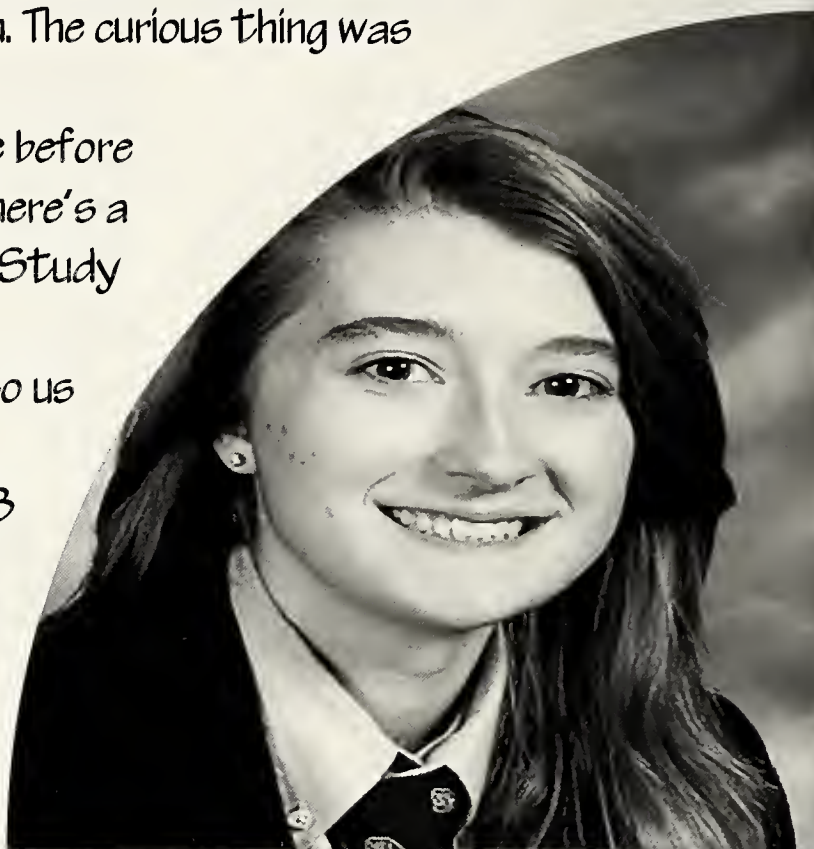

It feels like it was last week when our Student Council was elected and now, we've already been replaced. Going into the year, it wasn't what I had expected. I thought we would have our roles and we would mainly stick to that...was I ever wrong. We all did pretty much everything together, whether it be counting money, planning events or making decisions. Though the year did fly by, I have to say we grew a lot as a group and more importantly, as a team. Thank you Jess M., Jess W., Sophie, Sass, Q, and Tati for making this year a great learning experience and so much fun. Also, thank you Ms. Zannis for the ceaseless guidance and constant support along the way.

Olivia, I wish you the best of luck with next year. The best advice I can give you is to stay organized and communicate with the rest of the Student Council. Most importantly, enjoy it because it'll be done before you know it.
Victoria

Head Girl

It's incredible how quickly the year passed, and a new Student Council was elected. I remember a year ago, sitting on a chair in front of the entire assembly, waiting to be called up to do my speech. The curious thing was that I wasn't nervous for the speech, nor was I worried about the large audience before me; I was worried that I wasn't worried enough. There's a simple reason why I don't feel nervous in front of Study girls. We know how to laugh and we know how to have fun, and that's what mattered the most to us this year as a Student Council. From building a taxi for the grade 7 and 8 dance to making 298 personalized invitations for Cotillion, our mission was to make this an unforgettable year. To Q, Tati, Sophie, Vic, Jess and Jess, thank you for being such a great team. Good luck Alexa, I know you're going to be a marvellous Head Girl!

Sass

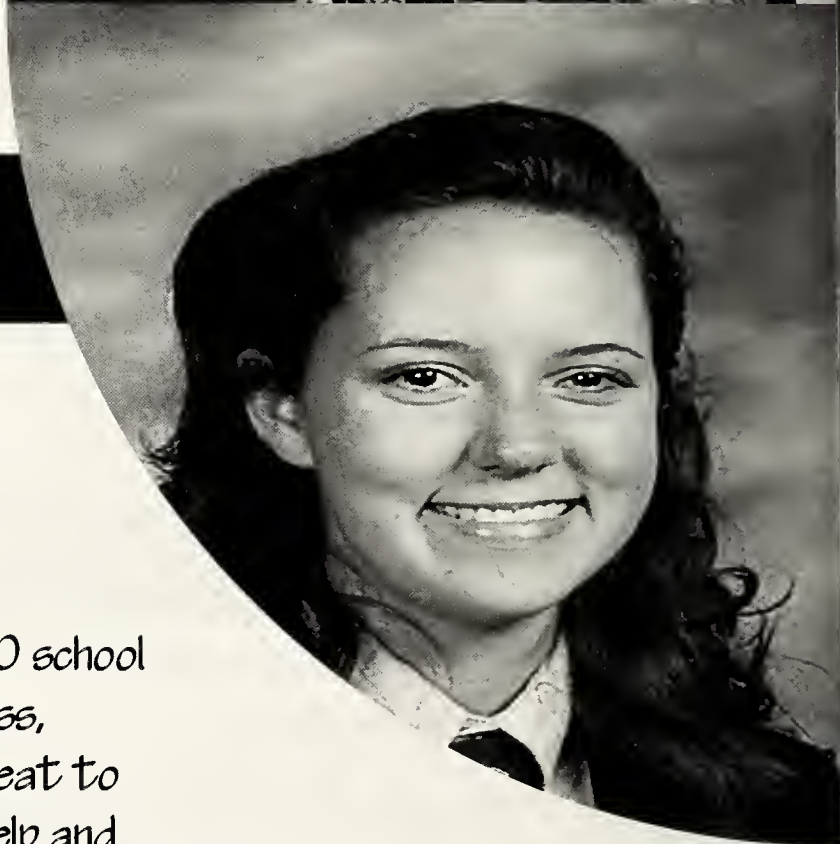

Subhead Girl

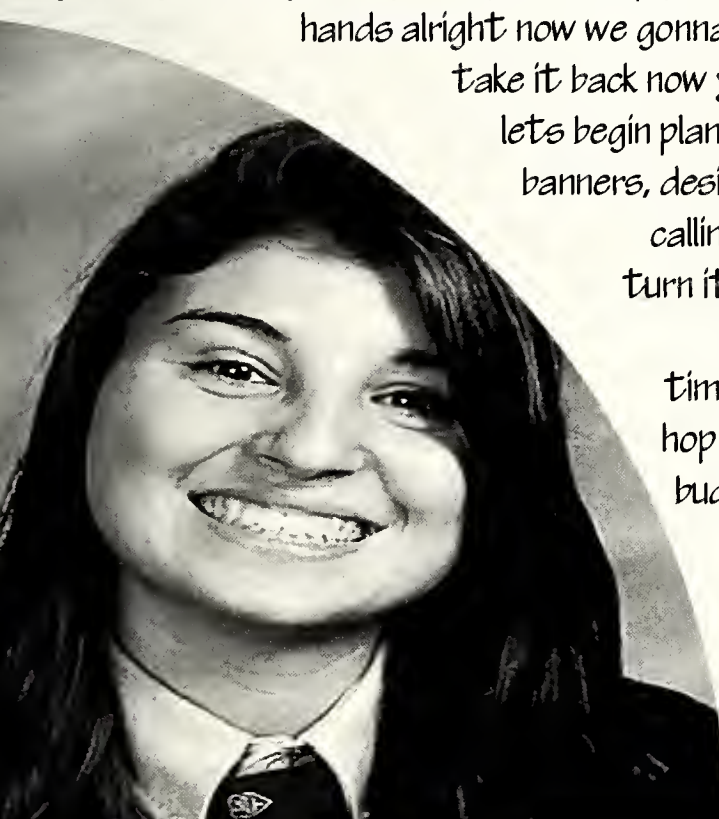

This year has gone by exceptionally fast. It began a few days before the first official day of school, the seven of us gathered on the library balcony with Ms. Zannis and discussed the year that lay ahead. We were all excited, bouncing off ideas and determined to make the 2009-2010 school year an amazing one. We definitely succeeded. Sass, Jess M., Jess W., Tati, Vic, Sophie, it was really great to work with you! Ms. Zannis thank you for all your help and encouragement along the way, we couldn't have done it without you! Emily, good luck next year!

This is something new the Sophie slide part 2 featuring the study student council 2010 and this time were gonna get funky, funky everybody clap your hands Clap, clap, clap, clap your hands, clap, clap, clap, clap your hands alright now we gonna do the basic step to Ms. Zannis office every Wednesday lunch, take it back now y'all, discussing the upcoming events and skits, 1 hop this time, lets begin planning the grade 7 and 8 dance, 4 hops this time, start drawing banners, designing tickets, planning the decorations, right foot let's stomp, calling the djs and choosing the song playlist, left foot let's stomp, turn it out, talent show, one hop this time, auditions, right foot let's stomp, making playlists and orders, left foot let's stomp, last time to get funky, to right now, Cotillion, take it back now y'all, one hop this time, choosing the venue, one hop this time, calculating the budget, ight foot two stomps, left foot two stomps, decorations FREEZE. It is time to thank the team; Sass, Q, Tati, Vic, Weibs, Mcknight and Ms. Zannis nothing would have worked without you after all, student council is a team game. Everybody clap your hands for the most incredible team. Clap, clap, clap, clap your hands, clap, clap, clap, clap your hands. One last step, Fil, you are going to do an amazing job next year.

Good luck!

Sass, Q, Tati, Vic, Sophie and Jess. Thank you so much for making this, although time consuming and challenging, an all around great experience. I'm not gonna lie, we had our ups and downs as a group and some minor fails, but in the end we always pulled it together. Whether we were planning an event or just having our weekly lunches, I really enjoyed every second of it. From our first challenge as a team, the junior dance, to the last few weeks where we elected the future student council. Thank you so much for all the great times. Last but not least, I would also like to thank Ms Zannis for helping us and guiding us through the whole experience. Thank you so much for everything! Good luck next year Mia! Enjoy every second of it, it goes fast! Believe me.

GFC

A sea of pink all gathered at the top of Mount Royal to raise funds and awareness for women's related cancers, the feeling of pride and empowerment looking out at hundreds of girls was just amazing. We had worked so hard, that seeing the result simply took my breath away. Throughout the summer, there was major planning to do, from logistics to what kind of biscotti to give out. Then there was the cheer and video that this year was the responsibility of The Study to produce, and we did. It was a lot more work that I had ever expected, but with Talya and Simone as my partners, everything went smoothly. I'm grateful for everything we've done together, and for this experience of having overcome obstacles as a team with a vision. From meeting us in her office in the summer to driving to meetings, Ms. Zannis has always been there as a mentor and guide, and we thank you for your constant and much needed support. Good luck next year, and remember: let's walk!

Sarah Fortin

Art Head

It has been an honor and pleasure to be The Study's Art Head. Every year, the Art Head(s) would bring together their patience, talent and other art lovers in the grade, AKA the Art Committee, to create unique and memorable banners for various events, and I am no exception. Whether it is painting the beautiful Grade 11 bazaar banners the night before Bazaar, or painting the Grade 7/8 Dance banner, Ms. Campbell was always there to guide us and support our work. Thank you very much! I have to say that the Arts Celebration banner was the most memorable. Joanna, Anastasia and I used countless lunch hours painting, correcting and then repainting it at the "ungodly hour" of 7am. It was well worth it.

Anna Dai

Tuck Head

This year was quite the experience when it comes to being the 2010 Tuck Head. Being the person who buys the snack food for the girls in high school comes with a lot of responsibility, especially at The Study. Our grade has always known that we eat a ridiculous amount of food, but this year, I think that we took that amount to new heights. We ate so much there was hardly ever any left to sell to the other grades!

I want to thank my mom for driving to Costco, Ms. Anderson for her patience, the high school for buying Tuck, but most of all the class of 2010. Tuck tabs were paid, food was eaten at a remarkable speed, but most of all, even when we had lived a few days without Tuck, or when I yelled at you to pay your tabs, you were always supportive and appreciative. So, thank you. I'm really going to miss being your Tuck Head.

Bazaar

Bazaar is a very bizarre time of year. Our Tuesday meetings were always the highlight of our weeks. From lunches with Ms. Zannis to trekking down Sherbrooke Street for two hours to collect raffle prizes, I think we can both say that bazaar was a world full of fun even for Boomer. The whole school gets together at this AMAZING event to raise funds for a good cause. Thank you to everyone for your participation and support during this phenomenal event. Good luck to Anna and Sabrina, next year's Bazaar Co-Chairs. You both have some very large shoes to fill.

Love,
Amelia Hirst and Nadine Chalati

Community Service Head

Being community service head this year felt very fulfilling. I really enjoyed working with Mrs. Anderson, and I mostly enjoyed the encouragement this position gave me to volunteer. Volunteering for me is about giving back to my community, but at the same time having fun. Teaching this to my peers was a great experience and I would like to thank Mrs. Anderson for guiding me through this process and showing me what volunteering is really about.

Cristina Catania

Grad Head

Grad is sort of a big deal. The dress, the shoes, the boy; It's all pretty important. It has been an honor and an experience to plan the graduation party for the Class of 2010, my closest friends. I would like to extend my thanks to the Grad Committee, Amelia, Cristina, Ava and Lara, without whom I would have lost my sanity long ago. So put on your dresses, slip on your shoes, dance with the boy, and remember this night forever because we worked real hard on this one.

Julianne Brock

Alumnae Prefects

It has been a pleasure being this year's Alumnae Prefects. Thousands of stuffed envelopes later, we can attest to the fact that it'll be a rewarding challenge keeping all of us together following our graduation! Despite our procrastination regarding the Time Capsule, we're so glad to be able to document this fantastic year we've shared together as a grade. Thirty years from now, we'll still be sisters, and definitely still STUDS!

We love you all please don't get sick of our calls for the next few decades!

Mu Gamma

Hey Mu Gamma,

This year we came together like a herd of cows and plowed through the many bumps in the fields we travelled. We managed to always provide enough milk (house points) and I will always miss the sounds of the moos that we made together.

This year was amazing and you all were super spirited. From the basketball shootout to the house hustle, the party was in Mu Gamma. I wish the next year's Force an awesome year with tons of spirit. Good luck Anna, Sarah, Francesca and Sabrina. You will not need luck because Mu Gamma is that remarkable!

Love,
Talya, Patty and Kristina

THE STUDY HOUSES

Kappa Rho

This year has been amazing, Kappa Rho!!! Even though we were one of the smaller houses, we didn't let that show when it came to spirit. We were always the loudest and we never stopped cheering. I was so dedicated as house head and I am so proud how this year turned out. I don't need any awards or prizes to prove to me that Kappa Rho is the best house out there. Thank you to Mrs. Traylen for always being there and doing everything possible to make house days the best. Also, thanks to this year's force, especially Taylor and Andrea; this year wouldn't have been the same without you guys. Congratulations everyone for making this year a great one!!!!

Good luck to next years house officials

Andrea, Leyla and Anastasia Tease!

Delta Beta

Delta Beta you have been absolutely incredible this year! Starting from the basketball shootouts, the volleyball and House Hustle we had so much fun and we did so well! Organizing the different events was a pleasure because you girls have made it easy and fun for all of the Delta Beta Force. Thank you everyone who brought in house points and excellences, you made counting the ballots so much more of a pleasure, even if you made it a lengthy task!

Sports day was amazing and you girls should be really proud of Delta Beta! Keep up the spirit next year and all the years that follow.

Keep up the amazing energy next year because we have to prove that we are the ultimate house!

Love you all and wish the best of luck to Haley Elder, Nina Darche-Bouchard, Jordana Serero and Stephanie Claxton, next year's house officials

Delta Beta House Officials

THE STUDY HOUSES

Beta Lambda

It is a fact that Beta Lambdians are the best and to all you Study Girls, the truth never lies. From basketball shootouts, math competition, beach volleyball, house hustle and sports day, Beta Lambda has never ceased to impress. I am 100% positive that the other houses are EXTREMELY JEALOUS of our AMAZING spirit! Inside, they all wish that they could be part of this EXTRAORDINARY house! To all you Beta Lambdians, you have been great this whole year. Your spirit was overwhelming and your participation was fantastic. To all you Study Girls, Beta Lambda might lie in the underground of the school, but our incredible spirit could be heard up to the gym. Congratulations to Olivia, Laura and Emilie, next year's house officials. Good luck leading the Beta Lambdian legacy!

Your House Officials,
Nadine Chalati, Anastasia Johnson and Olivia Regimbal

Talya Boijsjoli

You had to be there to really understand everything that has happened during my years at The Study..the soccer trips, schools trips, locker room activities such as dance/singing parties, intense lunch discussions, stagecraft classes, summer weekends, chonga talk, study buns, our obsessions (Keith), atom's family, and many others. I love you all and there is no other class that can compare to ours. I want to thank my family and friends for the supports during those stressed weeks. It's conceptually obvious we are amazing grads of 2010.

I love you all so much,

Julianne Brock

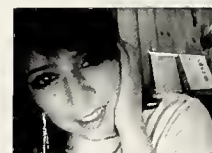

As strange as it is, I never thought I'd write one of these...Graduating is something I never believed would actually happen; I'd just get exponentially closer to it but never quite there. Kind of strange when you think about it...Now 12 years have come and gone and I wonder where all the time went. Then I remember all of you; it seems like a lifetime and that's because it has been. You're the ones responsible for the person I am, you're all a part of me. Kurt Cobain said "It's better to burn out, than fade away"...At least you go down in a blaze, something out of this world, something exceptional. All of you are exceptional. So here's to leaving this place with a bang, here's to you lovely ladies.

Don't forget to remember me,
Julianne

Asli Buyukkurt

I can only be grateful for having been blessed with incredible teachers and opportunities during my time at The Study. More importantly, though, I've been blessed with classmates that were more like sisters. Any life-changing event, or ordinary moment in between, I have shared with you girls. It's because of you that I can look back on these past twelve years and instantly find a smile spread across my face. You've made every bit of it unbelievably memorable, and I love you all from the bottom of my heart. Forgetting you would be impossible. Mom, Dad, Pinar, thank you for making sure I knew that being different and being myself was the best way to find happiness, and for teaching me how to love learning. I'm a nerd, I'm a dancer, I'm an actress, I'm just a little crazy, and it's all because I had you to support me every step of the way. So, graduates of 2010, GRAB IT. Dance and sing like nobody's watching, laugh until Pepsi comes out of your nose, and never stop showing others how fabulous you are. We've left their mark on this place, and on each other. The world doesn't stand a chance.

So, it's grad write up time, it's probably the 14th try (epic fail, ROFL), but who's counting? Soon, we will have our last full school assembly, last exams, but finally graduation. Of course, I left this writing at the last possible second for it'd have to face a reality, which will be the hardest in my life. For the past 12 years I've always been asked "Do you study at The Study?" What became the oldest joke in the book is now all coming to an end. "Don't cry because it's over, smile because it happened" Dr. Seuss. It's impossible, there is just not enough characters to describe my 12 incredible year experience at The Study in this small confined space. I never imagined that it would pass me by in a blink. I wouldn't be who I am today if it weren't for all my sisters whom picked me up when I was down, and shared many laughs. We fall, get up, we're strong and move on. I honestly didn't want this to be cheesy, but who doesn't like cheese? To the amazing class of '10, I love you all and wish the best of luck in the future, for this is just the beginning (wheddup). To my parents and teachers, thank you for all your support and never giving up on me. Life's like a rollercoaster, although it may have sharp turns, twists to one side, I'll be enjoying every second of the ride.

Cristina Maria Catania

You guys are not my friends. You are my sisters. We see each other more than we see our families, and I've learnt so much from all of you. We grew together and we've changed each other. I am so lucky to have you guys as my pals, my confidants, and my "lovers". PET. I cannot describe my time with you guys in 200 words or in 10,000, but I can say that I will miss insanely, our craziness, our singing(cough)/dancing, and our laughs that make our stomach hurt. Our childish nature will always remain in our hearts and no matter what, chonga will also remain there too. If you ever get bored, just sway, I promise you it works every time. To my family, thanks for dealing with me while stress gets the better of me, and mom thanks for driving me to school every morning at 6:30am. Some advice to all of you, don't ever let fear stop you while trying to reach your dreams. Shoot for the moon and if you miss, hey you end up in the stars right? I love you guys soooooo much and I wish you guys the best you can get, don't ever settle for less!

So here it goes my final rap as a study girl:
Boom, chhchhchh, boom, chhchhchh.
Hi my name is Sophie
And I deserve a trophy
I'm graduating from grade eleven
But feel like I'm back in grade 7.

My first year was in grade 4
When I walked through those opening doors
I could of never have asked for more.

From my first day,
And still today
I've made so many friends
And we've all started new trends.
From our tunics to our skirts
The new fashion was "tucked shirts".

The Study is where I've met all my buddies
And done most of my studies
Next year I may drop a tear,
When I see that I am not here
And yet it is clear, the study is where it's at my dear.

I'd like to thank my family, friends and teachers,
For supporting me throughout these wonderful years
Cheers to 2010, here we go again!!

LOVE YOU GIRLS SOO SOO MUCH!

-Sophie

Eight years at The Study. It almost felt like it was never-ending. It is hard for me to leave and know that I'll never come back. That the last day I will take off my uniform and never put it back on again. To Dahlia, habibi! I thank you for helping me in the time of my greatest stress, I love you, you are my life. To Mom: I cannot thank you enough for all the support and love you have given me throughout my life. To Baba: Thank you for driving me to school every morning at 6:45 am, I love you. To my teachers: Thank you for this amazing opportunity and experience. To my friends: I don't think I'll ever be able to meet anyone that will be nearly as amazing as any of you. All the laughs, jam sessions and locker room moments are unforgettable. It has been stated that laughing prolongs life. If this is true, then I would like to thank all my friends for helping me live to 500. On my first day of school, I left with my sister. Now I leave knowing that I really have 31 sisters.

I love you all endlessly,

Nadine (Nadler, Nadini, Nad Nad)

Life is like a roll of unexposed film always waiting to be pulled out of the camera and developed for the world to see. As the negatives begin to wither away, you finally think to yourself I should have used a Polaroid.

Believe it or not, this is the first time that I am graduating from a school other than kindergarten. Coming to The Study for grade 9 was only another move for me, as I have never stayed in a city for more than 3 years at a time. However, the three years here have changed "just another move" to an unforgettable experience.

Grade 11 for me is composed of the Arts Celebration, joining every possible club/committee, the Arts Celebration, EPG stealing my lunch, the Arts Celebration and hanging out with all my friends, who are close enough to be my sisters.

Because of this family-like community, I felt as if I have been here since forever and as if I belong. It is because of all of you that I can move to California next year knowing that there is a reason to come back.

I love you all!

Looking back at my first days in grade seven, I never would have thought these 5 years would have flown by like they did. I can start off by saying that I sure have come a long way since being the new girl with her head tilted too far to keep her hair out of her face. As much as I have anticipated graduation, I see now that saying goodbye to something I've become so familiar with is going to be hard. To my family, thank you for all your support over the years, through no matter what. I wouldn't have been able to do it without you. To Ben, you've been my motivation and such a big part of my life over the past two years; I'm so lucky to have you. Thank you so much for everything you've taught me. And finally, to my graduating class, I wish you all the best with all your future endeavors, you're great girls and I'm going to miss seeing you every day. Keep in touch!

"So be sure when you step, Step with care and great tact. And remember that life's A Great Balancing Act. And will you succeed? Yes! You will, indeed! (93 and a percent guaranteed) Kid, you'll move mountains." - Dr. Seuss

It was only 12 years ago that I entered The Study, and now I will be leaving the same way with 12 years of memories, friendships and knowledge to follow me. It's hard to imagine that this last year has gone by so fast. In September, I was awaiting graduation not imagining how hard it would be to say goodbye.

To my 31 sisters with whom singing and dancing in the grade 11 locker room, made going to school so much better. I have to say we were and will always be a High School Musical. A.Q., T.C., A.B., K.F., S.M.I., E.P.-G. Thanks for being there for me and being the greatest friends anyone could ever have. I guess it's true what they say, once a Study girl will always be a Study girl.

Thank you to all my teachers who have made learning fun and have helped me open doors to new opportunities.

To the Class of 2010, I will leave you on one last note.

They say it takes a village to raise a child. I disagree. I say it takes a combination of loving and supporting parents, teachers who give pile after pile of homework but who are there for you no matter what, and friends who ride the rollercoaster with you through all the ups and all the downs, never once complaining. To all of you: thank you from the bottom of my heart.

High school at The Study was an incredibly notable experience. Even though I had only joined this family halfway through grade 10, it feels already as though it's been several years that I've known this amazing and unique group of people. This school has benefitted me in many ways I have made remarkable friends here that have helped and supported me through my troubles. I will never forget my awesome band friends or my rowing buddies! My time at The Study is a memorable one that will never be forgotten; yes, the whole one year and a half of it.

Cool beans!

Just saying.

Thank you Grads of 2010 for all the incredible memories, unforgettable moments, and the most epic stories. Thank you for breaking out into song at any given moment and all the amazing jam sessions. Thank you for always being yourselves and doing your own thing because even though you may have looked ridiculous to others, to me, you were always pretty darn cool. Thank you for the weirdest and randomest conversations, that actually happened to be deep. And honestly, thank you for being here, in this moment, about to graduate, with me.

Thank you to The Study for all the incredible opportunities. Thank you Mommy, Daddy, and Ellie. I know I don't always mention it or show it but I really do love you guys.

"I believe that everything happens for a reason. People change so that you can learn to let go, things go wrong so that you appreciate them when they're right, you believe lies so you eventually learn to trust no one but yourself, and sometimes good things fall apart so better things can fall together." - Marilyn Monroe

Twelve years at The Study may seem like a long time, but when you spend it with a group of girls that can't help but make you smile, it goes by alarmingly fast. After spending about 41% of my days here I can honestly say it has been unforgettable in so many ways. From laughing to the point of crying, to sudden dancing and singing, it's safe to say I will miss each and every one of you. I couldn't be happier to graduate with such an unforgettable group of girls. To my 30 soul sisters, I love you.

-Amelia Hirst

Stephanie-Marie lacuessa

When I started at The Study in grade seven, I was always told that the girls I would meet there would be friends for life. They would be my sisters. Of course, being twelve at the time I couldn't understand this. Being born into a family where I was the only girl made me want a sister so badly, and the idea that I'd now have 30 was beyond fathomable. Didn't your sisters come home with you at night? Didn't you share all of your deepest, darkest secrets with them? Little did I know, it felt as though I did bring you girls home with me every night and it now becomes difficult to imagine not seeing your smiling faces as I come into the locker room every morning.

Mommy, Daddy and Nico, I want to thank you so much for giving me this amazing opportunity and for staying back and letting me shine. To my graduating class, thank you for all the unforgettable memories; you were the reason I'd always have that smile spread across my face. Promise me you'll never lose your spunk! You girls are amazing and it's impossible for anyone else to match up.

To my 30 soul sisters, I have but three words left...I love you.

Lots of Love

In all my eight years at The Study, I've never been known as one to procrastinate. I worked when it was time, I played when it was time, I studied when it was time and I joked around when it was time. I cried when it was time and I laughed when it was time. I found lifelong friendships and priceless memories, all when it was time. Yet today, a heartfelt "So long!" is due, and I can't help but play a waiting game. Would you look at that, my record's been broken and for all of this, my dear parents, teachers, friends and The Study, I have you to thank. Millec mercis à vous tous pour une expérience inoubliable.

Congratulations Class of '10, we made it! Good luck to everyone. I'll miss you all!

I have spent 11 outstanding years at The Study, and now it is sadly coming to an end. Every end of the year I watch the grade 11 girls walk down the red carpet in their white gowns receiving their diplomas, and I can't believe it is finally my turn to do the same. I want to thank everybody who supported me and stood by me throughout my journey. N.M, J.M you're the reason I got up every morning, S.C.S, J.B I don't know what I would of done without you, V.D, C.L you guys are amazing, J.W, N.V I can't even begin to describe the amazing times we had together. Last but not least I want to thank my family for always being there. I love you class of 2010, you have made this year worthwhile. Don't ever forget me, stay in touch.

Grads of 2010!

I spent 12 years at The Study, and I've made so many memories and experiences. J.M. C.L. B.L. V.D. I'm never going to forget you guys. We're all going our separate ways but I'll never forget any one of you grads.

The moments we've shared, from singing at the top of our lungs in the locker room, to stressing over assignments.

I'm going to miss you guys so much, the times we spent together will never be forgotten.

Love Tashayyyy

"Don't stop believing, hold on to that feeling." -Journey

As I look back on the past twelve years at The Study, all I can say is that we left our mark. In twenty years from now, a teacher will think of us and smile. A kindergartner will see our grad pictures in the hall and dream. This school will remember us, one way or the other. Grads of 2010, we're the ones who break out into song when walking down the hallway. We're the ones who beat the records and had the most spirit. We're the ones who everyone thinks are crazy, and I'll share a little secret... we are.

We'll look back and miss all of this, because these were the best years of our lives. When we walk down the street and see a teenager in our uniform, we'll tell them to make the most of it, as we were once told. But more importantly, and as cheesy as it may be, we'll always have each other.

Wow, where do I start? I could start from kindergarten, and go all the way through until I hit grade 11, but I can't take up the whole yearbook. So, how could I sum up my years at The Study in a little paragraph? This is going to be a challenge. I could just yell out words like "SAP!" or like "SWAG!" or like "SOO DIZZOWN!", because those were definitely words that were used constantly in Grade 11. Or I could talk about how when I was in kindergarten, I thought that finger painting was difficult. If only I could go back to those years. Or or or ...I could talk about how I used to wear these little leopard glasses throughout all of my middle school years and how everyone would make fun of me. Boy, those were GREAT times.

But to save you from the bore, I think I'll just say that my years spent at the study were definitely great ones. J

Love you all, forever and ever,

J-McKnizz

High school's been a gas (the fun kind), especially with my fellow Atoms Family members! Our bonds will always be covalent. Talster, I'll always be jealous of your "gift of lab". GCF! To the band buddies: I'll miss our sweet jam sessions. Keep swinging! Gotta love the John Lennon voice K-Town! You are the Michel to my vieux légumes! It would be remiss to neglect to mention our code names... Keith and GBFF are forever etched into our hearts. Testing 1, 2...

Thanks to everyone for putting up with me, especially first thing in the morning (Vic)! I love you girls! Keep being Chongalicious!

Thank you to the graduates of 2010 for 12 amazing years at The Study; I'll never forget you. Dance sessions, randomly breaking out into song, amazing soccer trips, acting like complete fools, boy obsessions, being kids, homeroom parties, laughing for no reason, knowing everything about everyone, gossiping, genuinely laughing with the teacher, knowing all the words to every song...everything. I think it's safe to say we really are a unique group and for so many reasons.

Ralph Waldo Emerson accurately stated once: "What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us." I love you all and keep in touch!

-Simone Nichols

Elizabeth Pelletier-Goulet

In my five years at the Study, I have accomplished many things. Many of my accomplishments include being a section leader in the concert band, being captain of the swimming team and being a yearbook editor. Yet, I got to say that my greatest and most amazing successes are as follows:

1. Tripping on every stair at the Study.
2. Tripping in front of the whole school.
3. Being late for school over 100 times.
4. Getting the most detentions for lates.
5. Breaking three graphing calculators.
6. Breaking over 12 laptops.
7. Losing my glasses at least twice per week (and then getting screamed at by Ms. Tien because I don't have my glasses for math class).

It really takes a lot of determination and hard work for being able to do these things. Yet, I would have never been able to do all of this without being one of the 31 girls of the graduation class of 2010. I love you all!

P.S. Don't get mad at me if I'm late to our reunions.

Love,

EPG, Bet Bet, Lizzy

I can't even begin to explain how much I'm going to miss The Study. How can I cram 12 years into 150 words? To start, I'm going to miss all of you girls so much. All the experiences and memories will stay with me forever. I'm going to miss all the special activities we've had the privilege of experiencing. I'm going to miss those locker room dance sessions so much. I'm especially going to miss not seeing all of you every day. This doesn't even begin to sum up everything I'm going to miss. "You had to be there". Thank you to my parents and teachers for a great education. Although it's scary to leave everything I know next year, I know I can do it thanks to everyone who's been there for me. I'm going to miss you all so much. Thank you so much for the great memories. "12 years to acquire friendships, but a lifetime to keep them". Let's stay in touch forever.

Wow, graduation: the day that seems so far off, the climax of high school, but: gosh does it come fast. Such a varied year, like strawberries and whipped cream, mixed with a wooden spoon. It's bittersweet; on one hand I feel like that one time I beat that Robolini high score (42K in one run ftw), but also like I'm leaving something really important behind. My time at The Study has been short, but definitely sweet. This year has really flown by (Dash(X)!!!), but it has been one of my most memorable ones. Sure, there were times when I would stare longingly at my countdown widget and eat insane amounts of cheese, but mostly I just enjoyed being here. Everything from falling asleep in the shower, mayo/dissected sandwiches (get more sleep Sickly child #2), the loveless wallet and motivation/taunting in many forms from Izakrow, to math stencils (yes, they get love too) and Taylor's math puns (I'll miss your watch Anna), opera(!!!), felting in art class, etc, etc, etc. There's too much to fit here or for me to remember, but it's been great, everything and all of it; classes, teachers, friends and random situations. I really wish I could have had another year here. Love you all class of '10, tons and tons, thank goodness for Facebook. (And don't worry Beansprout, Kidashrew will always spam you.)

The first thing that comes to mind when I think of the graduating class of 2010? Random bursts of song and dance, an endless list of inside jokes, constant energy (yes, even on Monday mornings) and laughter. But you are all much more than just "fun". The supportive, energetic, and overall incredible environment you've all helped create has made my years at the Stud Hut unforgettable. So to the class of 2010, I say thank you for making these past six years truly amazing. Most importantly, however, I have to thank you for changing my name from Alexandra Marie Quigley to Q (a huge improvement!!) I will never forget you, always stay in touch, and will always be available for random sing-alongs.

Love,

12 years, that's 3/4 of my life, 72,576 hours that I have breathed and lived The Study experience. Only one word to describe it..AMAZING! This was my last year at this school but also the greatest. This school has left me with an ever-lasting fountain of memories, friendships and experiences. Some of my closest friendships were made at this school, and the adventures we have had together here will always be with me. The Study has marked my life, and even though I am ready and excited to graduate, there will always be a part of me that will miss this school. Thank you for all your support and love to my Mom, Opa and Oma! This last year has been full of challenges, but also one of the best of my life. To the grads of 2010, I love you all and wish you the best in your future achievements! To Ben, my everything, I love you so much <3

"Even though we've changed and we're all finding our own place in the world, we all know that when the tears fall or the smile spreads across our face, we'll come to each other because no matter where this crazy world takes us, nothing will ever change so much to the point where we're not all still friends." Still remember to call me though!! I will always remember you all and those funny moments where people stopped stressing over school for a single second and we could hear laughter throughout the whole the locker room. Thank you graduating class for these two years of my life where there has been a lot of unforgettable memories and crazy moments in the locker room! All those crazy dancing moments and mood swings with all of you defines us, you guys are the bomb and you deserve the bestestttttt in the whole wide world! I want to thank people who helped me with my homework and made me smile and laugh in times of need. I also want to thank you all for accepting me into your family which has been an absolute adventure knowing you all. I want to apologize for my singing disabilities and if I gave anyone any headaches, I will learn to not do so wherever my next stop in life is!!

Thank you all who have helped me along the way, you know who you are, you all made the last 5 years the most memorable of my life. Even if some of us will part ways at the end of the year, I will never forget you. Thanks for all the great times and keep it touch!

The Class of 2010 has their own language. That's how close we've grown over the years. We understand each other no matter how "special" we are because our class is never afraid to show their true colours. Some of us have fallen asleep mid sentence (McKnight), others have patented the "Study Bun", where hair bun meets forehead (Talya), and some find the corners of locker rooms extremely appealing for dance parties (Tash, Cat, and multiple others). It's safe to say our weirdness makes us an unforgettable class, and I will miss every moment of it. To Steff: thank you for being there, I could not have done it without you. I love you all.
